

High School English, Math, Science, and Social Studies Teacher

Foshan Foreign Language School, Foshan, Guangdong Province, China

A full-time high school English, Math, Science, and Social Studies teacher are needed for a unique teaching opportunity in Foshan, Guangdong Province, China. Foshan Foreign Language School (FFLS) is a modern, high-quality, private boarding school serving students in grades 1-9. Starting in August 2018 FFLS will expand to include a high school (grades 10-12) that will use English as the primary language of instruction and will follow a curriculum that meets Wisconsin academic standards. FFLS is partnering with Pacelli High School (PHS) in Stevens Point, Wisconsin and US University Pathways (USUP) in Fitchburg, Wisconsin on the international high school.

The contract length will be one academic year with an annual salary of USD $40,000 to $60,000, based on experience, certificates, and degrees. The benefits include roundtrip international airfare, furnished apartment, and health insurance. No Chinese language proficiency required.

Interested applicants should send via e-mail: a letter of interest, a complete résumé, three letters or list of references, copies of diplomas, and university transcripts showing degree conferred (un-official transcript copies accepted for interview process). Review of applications will begin on June 8, 2018.
